Throckmorton Surgical Society Symposium on Colorectal Surgery

Co-sponsored by:
Throckmorton Surgical Society
Department of Surgery Education
Iowa Methodist Medical Center

Friday, May 1, 2015
This symposium is designed to provide the practicing general surgeon with current information regarding the latest advances and treatments in colorectal surgery.

At the conclusion of the program each participant should be able to:

- Review new novel strategies to manage anastomotic leaks
- Learn new ways to fashion a colostomy and discuss hernia rates with this technique
- Review role anesthesia plays in enhanced recovery pathways for colon surgery
- Discover the utilization patterns of social media by surgical residents and faculty
- Review past and present management of complicated diverticulitis
- Define the role of the general surgeon in endometrial surgery
- Discuss complications during laparoscopic surgery and learn strategies to manage these complications
- Review management techniques for anorectal fistulas
- Outline approach to manage fecal incontinence

Thompson Auditorium
Upon entering the parking ramp, please park at the far south end of the ramp. A set of elevators is located on the SE side of the ramp. Take the elevator to the ground floor and that will bring you directly to the Thompson Auditorium in the Conference and Learning Center.
