

Nurse Residency

Medical/Surgical Track

Overview

A 12-week unit orientation with ongoing support during your first year of practice aimed at expanding and applying knowledge of disease states, developing high-level critical thinking and coordination skills, while providing high quality care to our patients and families.

Orientation also includes Simulations, Shadows, and use of Mosby's Medical Surgical Modules and additional learning opportunities to enhance your knowledge of the unique complexities of Medical/Surgical patients.

Nurse Residents hired into the Medical/Surgical specialty will be hired directly to a unit specializing in: Oncology, orthopedics, surgical, neuro-trauma, medical, respiratory, transplant, women's services, or bariatric surgery.
