At UnityPoint Health®, our Environmental Services Team Members play a key role in the patient and family experience. In alignment with our culture, their positive, day-to-day interactions with patients, families and guests help impact the lives of the people we serve.

Continuing advancements in technology also place our Environmental Services Team Members at the center of reducing hospital-acquired Infections. For example, the use of Xenex machines for eliminating microorganisms assists our Environmental Services team in maintaining a clean and safe environment for our patients and other team members.
