Local and National Resources for Eating Disorders

(also available on www.amysgift.com)

Amy's Gift provides resources and support to health care professionals, educators and families alike on the subject of eating disorders. One of our central initiatives is to raise awareness at the primary reference source for treatment: the family practitioner – a call which extends to the entire community. To find these resources and information on upcoming events, please visit us online at www.amysgift.com. For a full information packet call (309) 779-3077 or email info@amysgift.com.
